So, What's Your Enviro-Type?

Depending on where you live - in the mountains, cities, deserts, plains, seaside or the tropics - environmental conditions vary dramatically, and so, affect the skin in specific ways. Solavie responds to such a notion through their unisex skin and hair line. They suggest products to you depending on where you live, or, what they like to call, your "enviro-type." If this is sounding a tad gimmicky, we don't blame you for thinking so. But keep in mind, Solavie is double concentrated, all natural, biodegradable and devoid of superfluous packaging (and what they do have is recyclable). Even our most discerning ecofabsters admit to being awfully impressed by the Body Nourish, for urbanites.
