Hailing from a "rustic and pastoral setting in state-of-the-art facilities" in Bavaria, Germany, Ombra is releasing its newest line of skin care products with the Aromatic Body Wash and Aromatic Foam Bath. The all-natural mixture has the soothing scent of roses and green tea. The uplifting scent of roses and the "skin-soothing properties" of green tea provide an overall relaxing experience. It also helps that Ombra has been rated by German consumer research as the "highest quality and best value" skincare product.

Clever packaging always wins me over, and Solavie has it in spades. Its all-natural skincare line is divided regionally with Mountains, Urban, Tropics, Shore, Plains and Desert. Each line comes with products that are paired up and snapped together. With a body nourish cream on one side and a hair and body wash on the other, you are sitting pretty with the Urban line. The Tropics line includes an anti-bacterial conditioner and styling gel in one on one side and a shampoo and bath gel in one on the other. The two in one packaging and product is perfect for every man, woman, skin or hair type.

Prices range from $10 to $38.
